

PL-CALL 2016: CALL for mobility

CALL FOR PAPERS

After two very successful and intellectually stimulating PL-CALL conferences (2013, Warsaw; 2014, Warsaw) and the PL-CALL day (PL-CALL Between in 2015, Kraków), we are going to convene for the fourth time, on 2-3 June 2016 in Kraków.

The main theme of our 2016 conference is CALL for mobility, which is self-explanatory in today's world, where everything, including language learning, is increasingly mobilized.

We would like to invite you to submit a paper proposal for the conference. Suggested research and academic practice areas:

- Mobile Assisted Language Learning (MALL)
- gamification in language learning
- designing mobile apps for language learning
- virtual student mobility / intercultural online exchanges (telecollaboration)
- computer-assisted activities stimulating intellectual agility: critical thinking, multiliteracies, etc.
- technology-enhanced explorations of fandoms and other territories
- (broadly understood) mobility in teacher training and translator education

Abstracts (200-word long) should be submitted at registration.

After the conference, selected papers will be published in a peer-reviewed monograph in the Peter Lang series Studies in Computer Assisted Language Learning.

It is our pleasure to announce our keynote speakers and workshop-givers:

- Shannon Sauro, Malmö University, Sweden, who is going to take us on a fandom tour;
- Lechosław Hojnacki, RODN Bielsko-Biała, Poland, who will mobilize our conference;
- Gosia Kurek, Jan Długosz University, Częstochowa, Poland, offering multiple insights into virtual mobility via telecollaboration;

- Michał Mochocki, Kazimierz Wielki University, Bydgoszcz, Poland, who will give a talk and a workshop on gamification in language learning;
- Przemysław Stencel, Edukacja Online, with a workshop on how to mobilize and gamify Moodle.
